

KARI TAYLOR

KARI TAYLOR, a solo artist on the arising and is gaining momentum as an independent artist. She is being sought after by Promoters and Booking Agents to perform at their events with large audiences. Kari's ability to engage her audience, share a part of herself, and be authentic is what an audience wants from an artist. She can give you a slow, smooth, feel good vibe or a high energy performance - a promoter's dream for any audience who wants to take a musical journey and have a good time. Kari's first single "Love Come Down (the Remake)" was a captivating debut that heralded the arrival of a gifted and significant new talent, in a stellar way. Her original music is carving out its own territory with the release of her EP entitled "Fallin' For You" with songs "Caught Up" and "Fallin' For You." The release of her newest Single and video "I'm Movin' Up" along with all of her music, are currently in distribution both digital and physical.